WORKMEN EXPECT MANY CONCESSIONS

Russian Government is Becoming More Considerate Now.

Trouble Threatens to Break Out in Warsaw Again—Gorky Questioned.

THE STRIKE NOT YET SETTLED

Lodz, Feb. 9.—The situation remains uncertain and nothing definite will be known until Friday morning, when some of the largest manufacturers have decided, after paying off today, to open their mills and gave the men a last chance to return to work.

The masters say that if there is no response to the whistle on Friday they will close their mills indefinitely. The masters are utterly unable to gauge the situation tonight, as the strikers appear to have no leaders, and it is impossible to ascertain whether they intend to accept the offer of a ten hour day and increased wages.

Little hope is expressed that the strike will be settled, though the men apparently are frightened by the violence of the agitators. The masters themselves are still not united.

It is reported that the strikers have decided to resort to serious violence in case the mills are closed down.

Gorky Questioned.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—The interrogation of Maxim Gorky by the public prosecutor, was begun yesterday in the court of justice to which Gorky was driven in a carriage from the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul. Gorky is well and is subjected to only the ordinary regulations which require the wearing of a special garb to prevent escape.

The Associated Press is informed on the best authority that the prison fare and accommodations at the fortress are better than at any other prison in St. Petersburg, several of which are models of their kind. Prisoners in the fortress are confined in roomy, well-heated casemates and aired and exercised daily. The stories of terrible hardships and privations are said to be baseless. The chief reason for the dread of being confined in the fortress is due to the fact that an inmate is unable in any way to communicate with his fellow prisoners, and casemates being sound proof.

The Associated Press representative yesterday talked with Mrs. Gorky who apparently is not deeply worried.

Assassins Were Friends.

Helsingfors, Feb. 9.—A connection between the assassination of Governor-General Bobrikoff of Finland in June last by Eugene Schaumann and Procurator-General of Finland Solininen last Monday by Karl Hohenthal has been established, it being learned that Schaumann and Hohenthal lived at the same boarding house and were warm friends. Hohenthal approved generally of Schaumann's deed.

The report that Hohenthal took poison before entering the late Procurator-General's apartment is not verified and the cool manner in which he reloaded his pistol and exchanged shots with Solininen's son and a detective speaks volumes for his determination. So many shots were fired in little more than a minute that the apartment was filled with smoke. The police as yet have not made any arrests. The city is calm.

Government Changing.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—The government's attitude toward workmen is daily becoming more conciliatory. Another meeting between the manufacturers and the minister of finance was held today, at which the manufacturers declared they would reject the workmen's demands unconditionally. The minister of finance to their surprise, urged them to be reasonable, and make whatever concessions were possible. He announced that legislation would be enacted to favor the workmen.

Anti-Jewish Riots.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 9.—The court which has been trying the cases of those connected with the anti-Jewish

BILLIONS OF FEET OF SNOW IN CHICAGO

Another Blizzard Raging in the Northwest.

It Is Reported to Be Traveling Rapidly Towards the Eastern States At Present.

MUCH DAMAGE AND SUFFERING

Chicago, Feb. 9.—More than four billion cubic feet of snow lie over the city of Chicago as a result of the storm which prevailed with brief intermissions for four days. This is equivalent to fifty three millions of gallons of water.

Storm Moving Eastward.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 9.—Advice from Hastings and Aurora, west of here, say the worst blizzard of the winter is raging in these places. The storm is moving eastward.

Worst of the Year.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 9.—Reports from northwest Nebraska tell of the worst blizzard of the year which is said to be moving eastward. Chadron reports a gale, accompanied by a terrific snow storm. An intense blizzard is raging at Long Pine, with the mercury falling. Already a foot of snow covers the greater part of Nebraska and it is probable that a bad blizzard on the ranges at this time will result in great suffering and loss of cattle and sheep.

South Is Hard Hit.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Heavy sleet yesterday has been followed by intermittent rain and telegraph and telephone conditions in this district are worse than at any time during the present troubles. Last night Nashville had telegraph connection with Louisville and Memphis only, all other points being cut off entirely.

T. H. Terhune, superintendent of the Second Southern district of the Western Union Telegraph Co., said yesterday that the Western Union succeeded in getting the first line through from Jackson, Miss., to New Orleans. He said the service out of Louisville was badly crippled and that Atlanta was entirely isolated. This city, he said, was the only outlet for New Orleans today, and since Mr. Terhune's statement the wire to that city has stopped working. It is understood that hundreds of messages have been forwarded by train from Mobile and New Orleans for distribution from the Western Union office here.

Leland Hume, General manager of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company, said that he thought the estimate of loss for his company sent from New Orleans was somewhat exaggerated. He stated, however, that the damage in Mississippi was very heavy and that in the mountains of East Tennessee many poles are down and the wires broken in hundreds of places.

Both Mr. Terhune and Mr. Hume stated that their companies have large forces of extra men in the field doing all possible to repair the damage.

First Year of the War.

Tokio, February, 9.—While rumors of peace have been current here for some time, they have not been confirmed in any official manner.

Commenting on the conclusion of the first year of the war, the Kokumin Shinbun says that Japan's army and navy have been invariably victorious, gaining command of the sea and driving back Kuroopaku to the right of the Hun river. It urges the nation while renewing memories of the first success achieved in the war of February 8, 1904, when the Japanese took the Russians by surprise, and recalling the unbroken series of victories since that time, to assume fresh vigor and leaves nothing undone to attain its ultimate object, which is still in the remote future.

Humor Letter Has Sold Mines.

Quincy, Ill., Feb. 9.—A well founded rumor is prevalent here to the effect that Joseph Leiter has sold his entire belongings at Zelger. The report adds that the deal includes the mine and the several thousands of acres of coal land adjoining. The purchasers later refuse to confirm or deny the report.

MEMBER EXPELLED FOR HIS CHARGES

Sensation in the Illinois Legislature Yesterday.

Members Accused of Graft Exonerate Themselves and Fire Their Accuser.

HE MADE A BRILLIANT SPEECH.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 9.—Representative Comerford was yesterday afternoon expelled as a member of the house and his name stricken from the rolls. His expulsion was the climax of a series of sensational charges of corruption and attempted bribery made by Comerford against members of the legislature, which were investigated by a special committee which found the charges utterly unfounded. Yesterday this committee reported its findings to the house. It made no recommendation, but the reading of report was followed instantly by a resolution providing for Comerford's expulsion. The resolution cited Comerford to appear before the house tomorrow and show cause why he should not be expelled. Comerford waived his right to prepare his defense and stated that he was ready right then to defend himself.

He was taken at his word, and in a brilliant speech of more than an hour's duration, reviewed the testimony taken before the investigating committee, fiercely scolded the committee for so limiting the scope of investigation that God Almighty, if he came here, would have been prevented from getting evidence against a self-confessed thief.

He denounced certain members of the house for the nature of their testimony before the committee, which, he claimed was so far different from what they had told him, that "they stood convicted as liars."

He said all he asked was justice; declared he had nothing to retract, nothing to apologize for.

When Comerford closed members of the investigating committee hotly resented Comerford's reflections on the action of the committee. One after another of the members attacked Comerford for his attack upon them. One lone member, McKenrick, of Rock Island, made a plea for delay, that the house might think over the matter and not act in hot blood. No attention was paid to it. Sheen, prohibitionist from Peoria, offered a substitute for the resolution of expulsion, providing simply for censure and deprivation of committee membership. It was laid on the table with a thunder of voices. Motion was made for previous question. Comerford, white-faced, exhausted and hoarse from his long plea, arose and demanded the right as a defendant of having the last word. It was given him and he spoke briefly.

The roll call was then ordered and by a vote of 121 to 13 Comerford was expelled and his name ordered erased from the house rolls.

When the final decision was made Comerford quietly walked up the center aisle of the chamber and out the door.

Soon after the house adjourned.

FOUL MURDER.

Logan, W. Va., Feb. 9.—The jury this morning found Lloyd Stollings guilty in the first degree, for murdering Rosa White, with a recommendation of life imprisonment. The murder was a brutal one, the body being almost severed from the head after the skull had been crushed.

To Relieve Kuropatkin.

Berlin, Feb. 9.—The Lokal Anzeiger learns from a Russian official source that Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaevitch, Inspector General of the Russian cavalry, will start for Manchuria next week to relieve Gen Kuropatkin of his command.

To Bid On Big Job.

Mr. C. H. Chubb, the contractor, has gone to Moberly, Columbia and Louisiana, Mo., to look after government building jobs he will bid on. Mr. J. M. Dunlap will go over Saturday and meet him. Mr. Dunlap's firm intending to go in for the big jobs too.

THE PHILIPPINES MAY BE EXPLORED

President Roosevelt Sends a Message to Congress.

Survey May Require Eight or Ten Years—A District Attorney Called Down.

THE SENATE CONSIDERS TREATY

Washington, Feb. 9.—The president yesterday sent a message to congress urging it to institute scientific exploration of the Philippine Islands. The conclusion is:

"I recommend that provision be made for the appointment of a board of surveys to superintend the national surveys and explorations to be made in the Philippine Islands, and that appropriation be made from time to time to meet the necessary expense of such investigation."

It is not probable that the survey would be completed in a less period than that of eight or ten years, but it is well that it should be begun in the near future. The Philippine commission and those responsible for the Philippine government are properly anxious that this survey should not be considered as an expense of the government, but should be carried on and treated as a national duty in the interests of science.

The National academy of science is interested in the project.

Attorney Had to Leave.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 9.—As a result of railroad men's protests to President Roosevelt against federal officers lobbying in the interest of the Standard Oil company and other corporations, District Attorney, of Northern Virginia district, Blizard, yesterday received a telegram from President Roosevelt to leave Charleston, or resign. Blizard left Charleston.

Senate Partially Completed.

Washington, Feb. 9.—The Hay-Bond treaty for the improvement of commercial relations with New Foundland, negotiated by Secretary Hay and Michael S. Herbert, late ambassador of Great Britain, was the subject of quite an extended executive session of the senate yesterday. This treaty had been amended in the foreign affairs committee to meet objections raised by the New England senators, and amendments were submitted to by Premier Bond of New Foundland, who was really the originator of the treaty on the part of Great Britain. During the session of the senate some amendments were adopted but the treaty itself was ratified and remains pending. It is understood on some formalities by the senate yet to be taken.

CREMATED HERSELF

CHICAGO WOMAN INFLECTS HORRIBLE DEATH ON HERSELF.

Believed She Had a Divine Call to Make a Divine Sacrifice of Herself.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Miss Frances Weakley, aged 23, believing she had received a divine call to offer herself to sacrifice, yesterday poured oil over her clothing and a pile of torn books and papers on which she stood, and set the whole on fire.

She is now in a hospital so terribly burned that her recovery is deemed impossible.

In the next room was the aged mother of the girl, paralyzed, listening to her daughter's voice, but unable to aid her in any way.

Miss Weakley lately joined a secret religious cult, the nature of which none of her friends will divulge. It is believed constant study of the new religion had unsettled her mind.

The court held the $1,000 a debt which the government must recover by civil and not criminal action against Dodson.

For instance: 40c will pay for The Sun one month and entitle you to 80 votes, if paid now. The same subscription paid in March will entitle you to only 40 votes. A year's subscription, $4.50, will entitle you to 1100 votes, if paid now; in March, if you wait it will be worth only 500 votes. Thus you see the wisdom of sending in your subscriptions early.

The piano is "The Valley Gem," sold by W. T. Miller, and is one of the best pianos he sells. It is valued at $250.

The watch for the first contest is on exhibition at Nagel & Meyer's, for the second at J. L. Wolff's, for the third contest, at Warren & Warren's.

Although the club as newly organized, is yet young, one big factory is already in sight and hard pressure is being brought to bear to secure it for Paducah.

AFTER MANY WEEKS

ASSAULT OF MR. C. N. BAKER IS IN THE TOOLS.

Ordered 1341 He Forced to Leave
Leave Town With Him Gave Him Away.

Detective Will Baker, assisted by Officers Gourieux and Potter, yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock arrested Tom Bates, colored, charged with assaulting Mr. C. N. Baker, proprietor of Noah's Ark store on Broadway on the night of the 8th of October, 1904.

Yesterday Lottie Hamilton, a sixteen-year-old colored girl, who was formerly in the employ of Mrs. James Segenfelder as nurse, who had been absent from the city since the night of the assault, re-appeared and informed Mrs. Segenfelder that Tom Bates, a tie carrier, had made her leave the city for Missouri with him and that she had run away and come home to seek protection. She further explained that Bates would return in an hour and try to compel her to return.

Mrs. Segenfelder telephoned the police and Detective Will Baker was detailed. He questioned the girl and learned that Bates had assaulted Mr. Baker and as the girl was a witness to the assault, compelled her to leave the city with him.

Officers Potter and Gourieux were called to assist the secret service man and when Bates returned and whistled the signal to the Hamilton girl, the officers closed in on him and he was a prisoner. A sweating supplemented with a few facts secured from the girl was sufficient to make Bates tell all, and before the police finished with him, he had admitted assaulting Mr. Baker.

It will be remembered that Mr. Baker was going to the polls to register and seeing two negroes emerge from an alley between Sixth and Seventh, Kentucky avenue and Washington streets, and in the rear of Mr. Baker's residence, asked them what they were doing. One jumped on him with brass knuckles. No clue to the assault could be secured until the Hamilton girl returned yesterday. Mr. Baker is now in New York buying goods but will return in two weeks, and Bates will be held until his return.

The negro had been in Missouri carrying ties and is said to have a record here as a criminal.

One man counted the carcasses of 22 horses and mules in the debris.

A complete list of the larger insurance affected is as follows:

E. P. Fitzgerald, 1315 Commercial avenue, $3,000 on building and $1,000 on stock.

Mrs. Mary E. Walsh, 1313 Commercial avenue, $2,000 on building.

Frank E. Fitzgerald, 1313 Commercial avenue, $1,500 on building.

Charles P. Powers, contents of No. 1309 and 1314 Commercial avenue, $1,000 on horses and mules, $4,100 on rolling stock, harness, etc., $375 on feed $75, on office furniture and fixtures and $200 on saddlery stock and tools.

Fletcher Bros., in Powers' livery stable, $300 on horses and $235 on buggy, wagon and harness.

Ben Michaels, in Powers' livery stable, $400 on horse and buggy.

M. Dohschütz, in second story No. 1315, $300 on furniture.

In addition there was partial damage to Mrs. Walsh's building, 231 14th street, building and furniture of Mark Kahn at 1303 Commercial avenue, furniture of E. J. McCabe at 1303 Commercial avenue, and to other buildings in the neighborhood and their contents.

The total loss will probably run between $20,000 and $25,000, with about $16,000 insurance.

BACKED OUT.

Bridegroom Said "No" and Broke Up the Wedding.

Mahoney City, Penn., Feb. 9.—The marriage of Frank Venkum, twenty-five years old, and Miss Helena Puskins, aged 20, was suddenly interrupted in St. Joseph's Catholic church yesterday when the bridegroom elect said "No" when Father Pentlenius asked him if he would take Miss Puskins for his lawful wedded wife. Venkum fled in haste from the altar, leaving the astonished girl swooning in the arms of her bridesmaid.

There were 200 guests present to witness the ceremony. Venkum said that because some unknown force had forbidden him not to wed.

IN THE SCHOOLS

ATTENDANCE IS STILL REDUCED
BY THE WEATHER.

Two New Teachers Have Been Employed and Are Expected At Any Time.

Attendance in the public schools is still very slim on account of the inclement weather, but the teachers are very busy nevertheless and the schools are going on as usual.

Yesterday afternoon Supt. Leib and the school committee decided to call Prof. Clarence E. Green, a graduate of the Michigan State Normal school, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Minnie Herndon at the high school building, and he will probably accept. A telegram was sent him at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon with instructions to report Friday and the committee thinks he did not intend to accept, he would wire his refusal, which has not been received.

Miss Grigsby, music teacher, is ill and for fear her illness might become serious and prevent her attending to the duties of her office, asked for a leave of absence. The committee has decided on her successor, Mrs. Daisy Winfrey, of Mayfield, a graduate of the Huntsville university in Alabama and also of Wellesley university of music in St. Louis.

The board has decided on Miss

Winifred McGugin, now attending Chicago university, as an assistant in the high school made necessary by the addition of pupils from the 8th grade. She will assist with the English, history and mathematics. She is expected within the next few days.

Supt. Leib today received a telegram from her stating that she would accept and come to Paducah at once to take the position.

THE GIDEONS

Mr. Harry Lukens, the drummer, went out on the road this morning after a several days' illness of la grippe.

The local branch was organized May 7 and this will be the first anniversary. An attempt to have all state officers here and at least some of the national officers, will be made. It is the intention of the local branch to invite C. H. Palmer, national field superintendent, to come. The meeting will begin on Saturday night and last over Sunday.

Theatrical Notes

George Ade's pictorial comedy, "The College Widow," is now in its twenty-first week at the Garden theater, New York city.

George Thatcher, who played the impetuous negro, Sassfras Livingston, in Henry W. Savage's western "County Chairman Company" here recently, is said to be among the wealthiest actors on the stage.

George Ade, the author of "A County Chairman," is wintering in Porto Rico, and incidentally giving thought to his new comedy, "The Second Time on Earth," which Henry W. Savage will give an early production next season.

Thomas Whiffen, of "The Sultan of Sulu" Company, entertained the members of that organization with a visit to a copper mine during the company's recent visit to Butte, Mont. Dinner was served 2,000 feet beneath the service of the earth.

"Traveling in Southern Kentucky a few years ago, I was obliged to change cars at a little place called Somerset," said Edgar J. Davenport.

of "The College Widow" company, recently. "About midday I glanced out of the car window to find a motherly-looking old colored 'mammy' with a tray on her head containing really inviting quarters of fried chicken. After having regaled myself with a 'laig,' I leaned out of the window and said: 'Auntie, that is awfully good chicken. Where did you get it?"

"Slowly the tray was lifted from sides shook with laughter as she displayed a wonderful expanse of blunders and molars. Recovering, she said: 'You're from de Norf, ain't you, boss?'

"Yes, I am; but what has that got to do with the chicken?"

"Well, boss,' she said, 'I lowed dat you was from de Norf, elst you never would ask a Kaintucky nigger where she got her chicken at.'"

A man that could carry in his memory the text of 100 books with an average of over 100,000 words to each, would seem to have a perfect right to be considered eligible to the "Memory" chair in any university. Yet on the pay-roll of Henry W. Savage's English Grand Opera Company is Chevalier N. B. Rumanol, a man who carries 17,000,000 notes, musical characters and words in his memory.

The Chevalier has spent thirty years in the leading opera houses of Europe, as conductor. He wears many decorations from royalty in different countries where he has given exhibitions of his phenomenal gift.

Miss Sophia Brandt, the new prima donna of "The Princess Chic," Co., has created quite a furore in the musical world the past two seasons.

Miss Brandt is a young woman of rare beauty and magnetism, and is endowed with a dramatic soprano voice of great volume and sweetness; a voice that is delicious and captivating in its quality. Critics have praised her to the utmost and have declared her to be equal to Emma Abbott in her palmy days.

Miss Brandt was a member of Henry W. Savage's company presenting the "Princess of Pilsen" in London the past season, and was the real hit of the production. Many inducements were offered her to remain in London, but prior contracts with Mr. La Shells forced her to return to this country to open the season with "The Princess Chic."

Miss Brandt is the possessor of a fine figure and has just the proper temperament to give the Princess Chic a spirited and artistic impersonation.

"The Princess Chic" will be seen at The Kentucky for matinee and night Saturday.

"Arizona" was enjoyed by a fairly large audience at The Kentucky last night—a good audience considering the fact that it was the third presentation of the play here within three years, and that the weather was bad. "Arizona" is a play that appeals to anyone who appreciates a real drama. There is nothing on the American stage today that beats it, and the performance last night was thoroughly enjoyed. The company, as a whole, is inferior to the two others that presented it here, but it is adequate and gives a first-class performance.

Mr. Joe V. Spears will present his new farce comedy triumvirate Wesley and Mack and the dainty comedienne Marie Trimbull at The Kentucky next Tuesday night in their latest success, "The Irish Pawnbrokers." It is promised full of color, movement and melody. As farce comedy stars Wesley and Mack have been counted among the best, and they have always been surrounded by a large and capable company, this season being no exception.

Wesley and Mack will introduce their well-known originalities. The very fact that they are so extensively imitated being in itself an enviable endorsement of their fun-making propensities. No pains or expense has been spared to make their new comedy the "hit" of the season in its line, special attention having been paid to the scenic and mechanical effects, adjuncts not usually found with a farce comedy, but which work wonders in the way of augmenting the attractiveness of a play or comedy of any kind. The hearing of complaints will begin on Monday and the board will then push work as fast as possible in order to finish up. The work has been tedious and the supervisors say they are more than willing to give it up.

Daily Thought.

"A man feels large every time he surmounts an obstacle which, perhaps, seemed insurmountable."

The Weather.

Threatening and cold tonight, with probable snow in the eastern portion. Friday, fair and colder.

STREET PAVING.

No street in the city of Paducah can be paved without inflicting a hardship on someone, and no street could be paved without a protest from someone. It consequently behooves the general council to order such streets as it deems advisable paved, for paving improves the appearance of a street, makes it more durable, enhances the value of abutting property, and saves the taxpayers the enormous cost of annual repairs.

Property in the sewerage district should also be connected with the sanitary sewerage. Property owners are as able to stand the cost now as they will ever be, the health of the community demands it, and nothing is to be gained by delay.

Callahan and Hargis, charged with responsibility for some of the most diabolical and cowardly assassinations in the state's history—not one assassination, but perhaps half a dozen of them—are going about enjoying life and freedom, holding civil office and prominent positions in the councils of the Democratic party. Caleb Powers, thrice convicted of one murder and three granted a new trial because he did not get a fair hearing, still languishes in jail, where for four years he has been a prisoner, his friends on the outside having to contribute money in order that he could take his appeals and get any trial at all. Yet, the powers in control of a state where such conditions are possible, continue to clamor for Taylor and Finley!

The efforts of the Commercial club are to be commended. The organization has good, live men in it, and they are proving their worth and ability by hustling. The way to get things these days is to go out after them. Those who wait for the mountain to go to Mahomet, as Mahomet, it is often build up themselves without much aid or inspiration, but often they do not. The slogan of today is "work." The city that does not work for more factories and more people will not be in with the city that does.

They seem to be having as much trouble getting hold of Callahan and Hargis as they do of getting Taylor and Finley, and Callahan and Hargis are right here in their own state, if they can't get alleged murderers right here in their own state, how can they expect to get them outside of their own state? We are talking of those conscientious officials who have so long wept because Indiana executives would not turn over to them former Republican officials to bring here and convict by use of perjury! prejudice and appeals to the passions.

Poor old Cairo! The city treasury has gone broke, and the insurance underwriters have ordered on the "pink slip" on all risks. What a pity that with so much water around and in Cairo, the fire protection cannot be made such as to keep off this awful scourge, the pink slip. We know how bad it is, because we had it not long ago. But worse still, Paducah is going to win the pennant again this year.

If the city had waited a day or two longer the snow and slush would have melted and taken itself away. It was like the administration, however, to start a thing in the eleventh hour, as in this instance, when after ten days or longer of snow, ice and slush in the business part of town, the spirit moved the officials to order it cleaned off.

The capitol site is settled at last, according to dispatches, but the only way for people of Kentucky to be sure of it is for the legislature to pack its grip and get out. As long as it is in Frankfort there is no certainty that anything is settled.

The board of aldermen should tonight adopt the recommendations for street improvements, as the council did.

MR. McCURT HERE.

Went to Princeton Today—Cold Did Not Affect Railroads Much.

Mr. H. McCourt, assistant general superintendent of southern lines of the I. C., passed through the city this morning en route to Princeton on business.

He came through in his private car, No. 19, and was met at the depot by Supt. A. H. Egan, of Louisville, and Chief Dispatcher L. Neal, of the city. They accompanied him to Princeton. He is merely on an inspection tour.

The railroads have experienced comparatively little trouble from the present conditions of weather. The freezing of creeks and tanks ordinarily causes delays in procuring water, but the freeze since the ice formed by falling rain and sleet, has not been severe enough to materially interfere in that way.

Some trains have been delayed by bad connections in the north and east but this is not the fault of the Louisville or Tennessee division officials who have been attending to their territory with remarkable success.

COMES TO KENTUCKY
EARLY IN APRIL

Senator Sam Piles Expects Then to Visit Paducah.

Will Be in Washington Feb. 20, and Comes Here On His Way Home.

WRITES TO HON. J. K. HENDRICK

Hundreds of friends in Kentucky of Hon. Sam Piles, formerly of Paducah and Smithland, Ky., who was a few days ago elected United States senator for the state of Washington, will be glad of the opportunity in April of seeing him and personally extending congratulations, which have poured in on him from Kentucky in the form of letters and telegrams ever since his election.

Hon. John K. Hendrick, the attorney, is in receipt of a letter from Senator-elect Piles, stating that nothing gave him more pleasure than the messages of congratulation and friendship he received from his native state, which is still as dear to him as one's home could possibly be.

He says, Col. Hendrick's message recalled the good old days when they used to sit under the trees at Smithland and study law, and build air castles. He never thought then he declares, that he would ever be a United States senator, although he was confident of the high position to which Col. Hendrick would rise, and to which he has risen.

Senator Piles says he will be in Washington, D. C., February 20th and that he expects to visit Kentucky in April. He will come to Paducah, and visit his old home in Smithland before returning to his home in Seattle.

Needless to say he will receive a royal welcome when he comes.

DEATH AT CAIRO

MRS. HARRIET WILLIAMSON, FORMERLY OF SMITHLAND.

Her Husband Formerly Owned the Boat Store at Cairo and Was a Prominent Man.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 9.—Mrs. Harriet Williamson, aged 74 years, died yesterday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock at her home, 611 Washington avenue, after an illness of more than a year with a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Williamson was born in Hopkinsville, Ky., September 4, 1830. Her maiden name was Wood. On October 7, 1845, she married John B. Smith, of Smithland, Ky. He died February 6 1855. On May 11, 1856, she was united in marriage to Capt. G. D. Williamson at Smithland, Ky., where they resided until 1859 when he came to Cairo and established the boat store on Ohio street in partnership with the late E. P. Haynes. The latter retired from the business in the early 70's and Capt. Williamson conducted the business until his death in 1895. Mrs. Williamson came to Cairo, in 1860.

The deceased is survived by two brothers, W. T. Wood of Bloomington, Ill., and R. G. Wood of Whiting, Kas.; a step-daughter, Mrs. Walton W. Wright, of Memphis, and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Fred E. Allen of Fort Dodge, Ia.

A remarkable coincidence in the life of Mrs. Williamson and her second husband was that the first husband of the former died on the same day as the first wife of the latter. Funeral services were conducted over the remains of both in the old church at Smithland where they were both married. One sermon was preached over the remains of both and they were laid to rest in the same burial ground.

Not By a Young Lady.

The charming little prose poem, "Lessons from the Sleet," which appeared in The Sun yesterday, has attracted much notice, and in justice to the author it should be said it was not written by a young lady, but by another person. Attributing it to a young lady was the result of a mistake.

"Introduce Mr. Too Much to Mr. Too Little, and the pair of them will be talking business in a minute." Such introductions are a part of the daily work of the want ads.

INQUIRY OVER

MRS. HIRCHETT WILL BE EXONERATED BY COMMITTEE.

A Report Will Probably Be Filed With the Mayor Today.

The joint hospital committee of the general council has about finished its investigation of the city hospital management and it is understood will this afternoon present a copy of its findings to the mayor and city solicitor. The outcome of the inquiry is not made public, but it is said that Mrs. Hirschett will be exonerated.

If any charges are preferred against anyone, it will probably be through the mayor. It is understood that if matters can be gotten in shape by this evening, a report will be made at the board of aldermen meeting.

The board meets tonight in regular session, and about the most important thing to come up will be the street improvement recommendations.

INAUGURAL PARADE.

Chancellor MacCracken Says It's Foolish to Have College in It.

New York, Feb. 9.—In an address to the undergraduates Chancellor MacCracken of the New York University, expressed himself as opposed to the plan to have college men in the inaugural parade at Washington. After saying that he in common with other college presidents had received a letter from the inaugural committee requesting his aid in the matter, the chancellor continued:

"I have declined to take up this matter because I think that this inauguration committee is doing a very foolish thing. They are attempting to take one-tenth of the college students of the country to Washington to perform no higher mission than march an hour or two along the avenue and stand for an hour or two about the capitol building.

"My first objection is that the whole plan would convey to students a weak and false notion regarding the best way of evidencing patriotism. It asks nothing from the brains of students. It asks for their legs and feet. This call to prove our patriotism by marching is like a demand that we prove our religion by ceremony and genuflection. Another objection is that the plan is breaking into the term of college work with a demand for a recess."

TIPPED HIS HAT

And About That Time the Attorney Hit the Toboggan.

One of the funniest accidents yesterday was that to Attorney J. S. Ross.

Attorney Ross was starting in the Fraternity building when he espied some ladies he knew. He tipped his hat and as he did so, struck a slick place and over he went, landing in a big puddle of water in front of the building.

Justice Jesse Young, who fell in the rear of his office yesterday and badly sprained his left hip, is unable to be out today. He did not think he was so badly injured at first, but was unable to walk this morning.

Mr. Nathan Ward, of Tennessee street, fell in front of the Fraternity building yesterday afternoon late, and was badly shaken up and bruised.

OTHERS FOUND.

Partner of Senator Mitchell Reported Indicted.

Portland, Ore., Feb. 9.—The federal grand jury investigating land fraud cases in which the government contends that it has been defrauded out of large tracts of land in this state last night returned three indictments. One of these is against A. H. Tanner, law partner of Senator Mitchell, for alleged perjury in giving testimony before the grand jury January 31, last, during the investigation of charges against Mitchell. Another is against Henry Meldrum, ex-United States surveyor general of Oregon. George F. Waggoner, chief clerk in the surveyor general's office; David W. Kinnaird, examiner of surveys; Rufus S. Moore, surveyor, and John W. Hamaker and Frank J. Van Winkle, notaries public, who are charged with conspiracy.

Secretary Ill Today.

Miss Corlie Grundy, secretary of the Charity club, was ill this morning and unable to be at the court house. Miss Grundy has done good work for the club and knows all the paupers, impostors and all. The members of the club have a man employed to investigate cases which are reported, and rarely ever get caught.

These Days Suggest a

NAME NOT CHANGED.

FAKE ABOUT THE "KITTY" STILL GOING THE ROUNDS.

Henderson Selects Manager—Other News Items of the Baseball World.

It is regretted that the newspaper correspondents fell into the error of sending out the report that the name of the Kitty League had been changed to the "Ki-Yi." Nothing of the sort was done or thought of and it is to be hoped the mistake will be corrected as much as possible. "Ki-Yi" calls to mind too forcibly the Ching-Chuanan, Poor Joe, or some hopeless Towser who has been effectually canned.

Stage Manager Easton, of "Coon Hollow," the catcher who desires to play with Paducah this season, caught Bonno, the crack twirler of the Indians, the first of last season. The reason Easton is now at liberty is that he has been playing independent ball. He has not yet been promised a trial here.

Kitty league fans are still clamoring for "dope" and all the cities in the league are red hot with baseball talk and the papers are continually giving out new stars signed for this season.

A Princeton, Ind., paper has suggested the name of the Kitty league be changed to the Tri-State league, but Kitty is good enough.

Rube Whitley, of Vincennes last season, has been signed by the New York Americans. He is an excellent pitcher and did good work last season.

Jeffries, who played left field last season for Clarksville, will this year be with Savannah, Ga., in the South Atlantic league. He will be business manager of the team.

The Princeton, Ind., Democrat, says:

"Although there is sleet and ice in plenty it doesn't mitigate any against baseball enthusiasm. Yesterday the directors of the Princeton association of the Kitty league made satisfactory terms with Manager Hay and by the time the blue birds get busy with their nest building he will be a permanent fixture of Princeton and have his baseball team hard at work.

The directors are satisfied with Mr. Hay's ability as a baseball man and feel that he will bring a good team to Princeton. Those interested in the club, are, in fact, going to insist on this and Manager Hay is enough of an enthusiast to want to be connected with a winning team and everybody will be satisfied. * * * The long-haired "chief" of the Paducah tribe is getting quite cocksure early in the game. He will find that the baseball Jordan will be a hard road to travel this season."

Harry Kubit, the big twirler, who was with the local team last season, was chosen as manager of the Henderson team by the stockholders in the club Monday evening, says the Henderson Gleaner. He will be given absolute control of the players on the field and will be responsible for their behavior when not playing.

In a few words the new manager announced that he wanted full authority of the men during the progress of the games, that he was to tell the players what to do in their efforts to win and that he would not accept any interference on the part of the directors during the game. He also made it plain that he would expect the men to keep sober during the season and that he would not permit any rowdiness on their part. His talk was clear and to the point and the owners of the franchise were satisfied that he would do his best to keep his word.

Kubit, though young, has been playing ball for several years. He gained his first experience as a member of independent teams in Indianapolis, Ind., where he was raised. While there he had the advantage of coaching from the members of the Indianapolis American Association team. From there he went to the Three Eye league where he pitched with success until last season, when he signed with the local club.

Hostler Painfully Hurt.

William Guttrell, a hostler employed in the local I. C. round-house, had his right foot mangled by an engine yesterday afternoon. The wheels of the trucks "punched" the foot, and he will be unable to be out again for some time.

Clark Halley Out.

Captain Henry Bailey, city clerk, is able to be at his office today. Yesterday he was ill of a bad cold, and unable to be at the city hall.

BOARD OF WORKS

THIRD STREET ORDINANCE TO BE PASSED AT ONCE.

Desired to Commence Work by the Spring—Little Business Last Night.

Third street, from Kentucky avenue to Fourth and Broad, will be paved first, according to the present plans of the board of public works, which held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Solicitor E. H. Puryear was instructed to draw up at once the ordinance providing for the reconstruction of the street, and after its passage the city engineer will begin the work of getting grades and other measurements necessary before specifications are prepared on which contractors will make their bids.

The ordinance will provide for reconstruction of the street with brick, bitumen, asphalt or other paving material. The sidewalks from Kentucky avenue to Adams will be twelve feet wide and from Adams to Fourth and Broad, eight feet wide.

If the two boards pass the ordinance as soon as possible and Engineer Washington hastens his work, the contract may be let in time for beginning work in the spring. Unless there is more haste than heretofore shown, however, the street work may not begin until summer.

The street inspector is to be instructed to have extra men put to work today in the business part of the city to clear the ice and slush from the streets, and give free flow to the water as the ice melts. In places the drains have been so clogged with ice that none of the water can run off.

The sidewalk contractors from Fifth to Ninth on Broadway will be today ordered to put down more curbs where excavations have been made, so water will run off, and not stand and freeze in cold weather.

WARMER WEATHER.

But the Indications Are for Another
Cold Wave.

Today has been damp, but pleasant in temperature, and the ice has been thawing rapidly. The indications are for more cold weather, however, the state forecast being for colder weather tonight and tomorrow, and the telegraphic dispatches predicting a visit from the blizzard that is coming this way from the northwest.

A COMPROMISE.

May Be Effected Between the City and Seacoast Company.

City Solicitor E. H. Puryear this morning stated that the Seacoast Mineral Co. has not moved away from Paducah and that an attempt was being made to settle the tax before it left without the city going to law about it. In event a compromise cannot be effected the city will take what legal steps are necessary to compel payment.

Basket Ball Game.

Tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. the girls' basketball team will play a match game for the benefit of the association, and ask the public to accord them a liberal patronage. It will positively be the last game of the season, and the admission will be but ten cents.

Supt. A. H. Egan, of the I. C. Louisville, was in the city last night on business.

Mr. L. P. Holland, of the Ayer-Lord Tie Co., went to Grand Rivers this morning on business.

SHERIFF POTTER.

Says He Will Take His Books to the Court House.

The investigation of reported excessive tax collections in McCracken county did not begin at the court house this morning, as County Judge Lightfoot said he had been unable to see Sheriff Lee Potter and get the latter's books.

Sheriff Potter said this afternoon that he would take his books to the court house and be glad to do it, or to do anything else to help them, although he is of the opinion that there is some sort of political trick about the proceeding.

He said that it was not compulsory on him to take his books to the court house, but that he would readily do it this afternoon.

Wants Supplies.

Mrs. Chiles, of the Rescue Mission, 431 South Third street, is having many calls for help this extreme weather from very worthy people. Especially is there a great demand for bed clothes, clothing, shoes, etc., and she asks the good people of the city if they have anything of the kind to give, please notify her. The need is urgent.

SICK PEOPLE.

Mr. Ben. Turner, bartender of Segenfelder's saloon, is fighting an attack of grippe, but is able to be out today.

Mrs. R. I. Reed, of South Third street, is ill.

WEARS UNIFORM.

Chief Collins' Grandson Sworn in by the Mayor.

Collins Clark, the son of Mr. Louis
Clark, the grocer, and the grandson of Chief of Police James Collins, is today a full-fledged "policeman."

A uniform for the little fellow was ordered and this morning came. He was rigged out and given a "sure enough pearl handle pistol," and a club and told to go to Mayor Yelzer and get sworn in.

He went to Mayor Yelzer and informed the chief executive that he was ready to go to work, and the mayor, in the fun of the occasion, swore him in.

"Why do you want to be a policeman and not a groceryman?" Collins was asked.

"Because grocery clerks have to work and policemen don't have anything to do but walk around and talk," he replied.

DR. LIGHTLE DEAD.

Noted Alleged Swindler Victim of Pneumonia.

Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 9.—Dr. H. G. Lightle died at the home of his mother at Searcy after a brief illness of pneumonia with which he was stricken last Friday.

Dr. Lightle was one of the principals in the sensational insurance swindle which stirred this section to its circumference last summer, and his cases were still pending in court, a change of venue having been taken to Marianna, where the case would have been called next term of court.

The remains of Ed Pitts were buried as those of Dr. Lightle and $20,000 insurance collected on insurance policies carried by him, which was afterward returned by his wife. In the meantime Dr. Lightle had fled to Georgia, where he was arrested a few months later under an assumed name. His return and the subsequent confession of Walter Gregory as to the grave robbery and the plot to defraud the insurance companies, the conviction of Dr. Lightle and ex-Mayor John M. Roberts of grave robbery, and their indictment for fraud and arson made the most sensational chapter of local history.

It was reported in Searcy that he made a confession shortly before he died, exonerating John V. Roberts, but a telephone message from that city says the report cannot be confirmed. Prosecuting Attorney P. R. Andrews, who prosecuted Dr. R. G. Lightle on the grave robbery charge, when asked if Dr. Lightle had made a confession exonerating John V. Roberts, said:

"I am confident the report is not true. From my knowledge of the case and statements recently made by Dr. Lightle he could not have exonerated Roberts on his deathbed."

Barley Grew in Throat.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 9.—Miss Martha Marquardt, the nineteen-year-old daughter of Hans Marquardt was afflicted last week with what she believed to be tonsillitis.

The condition of her throat finally became so grave it was decided to call in a doctor. The physician made an examination and was surprised to see growing in the back of Miss Marquardt's throat a pale shoot about three-quarters of an inch in length, curled back upon itself.

Dr. Hearne inserted forceps and without difficulty dislodged from a pocket in the tonsils a small barley seed which had lodged in the throat and germinated there.

Miss Marquardt immediately felt relief and her tonsillitis disappeared.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough, apply frequently Ballard's Saw Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vilet, New Castle, Colo., writes, March 19th, 1901: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant." 25c., 50c. and $1.00. DuBois, Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

ILLUSION OF A DYING PRINCE.

Treated with the Greatest Respect by the Servants.

Detmold, Principality of Lippe, Feb. 9.—Prince Carl Alexander of Lippe Detmold, who died in his asylum at St. Gilgenberg, near Beyreuth was surrounded by all the forms of royalty, by gentlemen in waiting and servants, who showed him the most exaggerated respect and kept up the illusion that he was indeed a sovereign.

He took much pleasure in the maintenance of severe etiquette, read the newspaper daily and seemingly kept track of the world's affairs and those of his own little principality, but he never permitted any one to speak of them. He played chess often, and was fond of music and theatrical productions.

The Prince was a calm-faced, handsome man, usually dressed in military uniform, and except for certain excess of stateliness gave no outward indication that he was weak minded. He lived, owing to his punctilious regard for his rank, in practically mental solitude, as it was unbecoming to him to exchange ideas with inferiors.

A Lively Runaway.

This morning about 9 o'clock a double team of horses belonging to Mr. Charles Clark ran away from the Palmer, where they were being held for a drummer bound on an overland trip. The horses ran down Broadway and mounted the pavement near a jewelry store on Broadway near Third. A display case was knocked down, but not badly damaged. The horses turned down Third and stopped at Jefferson street near the stable.

UNLUCKY NUMBER TWAIT THE NOOSE

THIRTEEN MEN IN KENTUCKY TO BE HANGED.

Five of Them in the Jefferson County Jail Waiting For Day of Doom.

THREE ARE AT LEXINGTON.

There are thirteen men under the death sentence in Kentucky. This is a startling announcement to say the least. Probably at no time in the history of the state has there been thirteen men at one time awaiting death on the gallows. It is, perhaps, a record equaled by no other state. There are four others who have been given the extreme penalty who have been given new trials by the court of appeals, among the number being Caleb Powers, three times convicted of complicity in the murder of Senator William Goebel.

In the Jefferson county jail at Louisville there are five men under the death sentence. William Van Dalsen, convicted of the murder of his mistress, Fanny Porter, will hang on February 24. The other prisoners in the Jefferson county jail under a sentence of death are Geo. Warner, Jacob Bischoff, James Thomas and Edward Brown. The last two named are negroes.

In the Fayette county jail at Lexington are John Taylor and James Garfield Smith, negroes, recently given the death penalty for the murder of William Moore, a white man, in a saloon on November 20. Ed Taylor was given the death penalty at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, after the jury had considered the case for only three minutes.

Jet and White.

Confined in cells at the Covington jail in Kenton county are two of the most noted prisoners under the death sentences—Curt Jet and Tom White, convicted of the murder of James Marcum at Jackson. They were tried in Winchester, Ky., last summer. They are now asking for a new trial before the appellate court.

In the Daviess jail a negro and a white man are under death sentences. They are Roy Green, who is to hang on February 17 for the murder of James Coomes at the fair grounds in July, and Robert Mathley, convicted of the murder of Emma Watkins. His case is now before the appellate court on a motion for a new trial.

At Hopkinsville, Christian county four negroes were recently given the death penalty for the murder of an unknown white man at Pembroke. Three of the negroes were granted new trials and one was refused a new hearing. George Holland is sentenced to hang on July 6.

Besides the above thirteen men who are sentenced to hang there are a number of murder trials before the different courts. It is expected that before summer several more will be given the extreme penalty.

Utterly Astonishing.

To the citizens of other states, principally the northern ones, the announcement that thirteen men are under sentence to hang in Kentucky will, doubtless, cause no little surprise. Its false reports sent out concerning "reckless bloodshed" and the non-enforcement of the law in murder cases by the Kentucky courts, people have been led to believe that no murderer was ever punished. Three of those sentenced to be hanged killed women, one in the local Owensboro jail and two in the Louisville jail.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS

Is Most Concluding.

"I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pile Cure has done for me. I had a most aggravated case of bleeding piles; indeed I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is indeed a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good." Rev. W. E. Carr, 355 No. Holbrook St., Danville, Va.

(Clergymen (like all professional men who lead sedentary lives) are especially addicted to piles, hemorrhoids, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief, with little or no idea of obtaining a cure.

Recognizing this fact, Rev. Carr consents to the use of his name in order that other sufferers may know there is a cure called Pyramid Pile Cure, which is sold by druggists everywhere for the low price of fifty cents a package, and which will bring about for every one afflicted with piles, the same beneficial results as in his own case. He cautions to accept no substitutes, and remember that there is no remedy "just as good."

A little book describing the cause and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles.

BARR.
Author of "Jennie Baxter, Journalist," Etc.

"I do not know. He has something on his mind. I saw that from the moment he was hurt. He is very brave, and this accident in itself would make little impression on him. My acquaintance with him is but a few hours old, yet I know he is a fearless youth. Are you aware of a mission that takes him to Oxford?"

"I have not the least knowledge of it. I heard no hint of his going, and he said nothing of his journey when we spoke together."

"He told me he had expected a comrade who had failed him. Cromwell himself gave him a pass for two. He said he was to see the brother of his sweetheart, who is with the king in Oxford."

"That is very likely. The two were great friends always, even when they took opposite sides in this deplorable contest, which is rending our distracted country."

"There must be more than friendship in this journey; otherwise Cromwell would not have given him such a pass as he holds. If I can render service to him in Oxford I shall be glad to undertake his commission."

"Do you, then, go to Oxford?" asked the girl innocently, turning her disquiet and disbelieving eyes full upon him.

"I had no such intention when I set out," stammered Armstrong, abashed that for once his natural caution had forsaken him. "It matters little how far south I go, and I am willing to do an errand for a friend. I took him for a royalist at first and saw no danger in his purpose, but if he be a parliamentarian, then Oxford is a place to avoid."

"Did he not tell you he was a parliamentarian?" questioned the girl, now alarmed in her turn.

"No. You told me so."

"If you must be mistaken, sir, I gave you no information about my brother."

"You said his friend in the king's forces had not thought the less of him because he took the other side."

"I am distraught with anxiety about him and gave but little heed to my words. I would have you remember only what my brother himself told you."

Their conversation was interrupted by the opening of the door and the appearance of the doctor. The girl could not conceal her trepidation, for the medical man's assurance had slight weight with her.

"Thomas is doing very well; very well indeed," said the old man. "You have no cause for alarm, not the slightest, if he can but be kept quiet for some days and rest where he is for a few weeks. You attended to him, sir, and I take it that you possess a smattering of our art."

"I have next of that knowledge, doctor," replied Armstrong, "for those who have done me the honor to run me through rarely had the consideration to make their attack within easy call of a surgeon."

Then, turning to the girl, the doctor said: "Your brother wishes to speak with you, and I have reluctantly given my consent. You will stay with him as short a time as may be, and I will be here to see that you do not overstep a reasonable limit, time would more. Do not argue with him or dispute anything he says, no matter how absurd it may seem. Agree to any proposal he makes even if you know it cannot be carried out. He is evidently disturbed about his duty. Soothe him—soothe him and console. There is little use in telling a lad in his condition that duty must wait till wounds are healed, but he will recognize that fact when he is well again. Meanwhile humor him; humor him. Away, and I count the minutes till you are out again. I will find John and send him for a competent nurse."

Frances opened the door gently and met her brother's hungry eyes. She sat down beside him, taking his fevered hand between her cool palms.

"Oh, I'm a doomed man, a doomed man!" he groined.

"Nonsense, Tom! The doctor quite agrees with the stranger that your wound is not dangerous."

"I was not thinking of the wound. That does not matter."

"What does, then, dear?"

"First, this morning at daylight I was to have been taken out and shot. The girl's hands tightened on his. 'Cromwell himself reprieved me last night, but on conditions. The sentence still hangs over me, and now I'm helpless to avert it, and all through my own folly. Oh, I have been a heedless fool! With every incentive not to take risk I have walked blindly!'"

"Yes, dear, yes. But tell me how I can aid you. The stranger says he will do anything you want done in Oxford, going there specially on your errand, and he looks like a man to be trusted."

"Trust him!" he cried impatiently. "Frances, Frances, it is against him I am going to Oxford! The man is a spy carrying a message to the king. He is interfering in a quarrel that should be no concern of his, and his life is already forfeit, as indeed is the case with my own. But the price of my life is the thwarting of him. The king will give him a commission to be taken to the Scottish borders. It is that document I was to read from him, by force if necessary, by cunning if possible. I was to give him every aid to reach Oxford, but on the way back I was to gain possession of this commission and ride to Cromwell with it; then life and promotion were mine, and now I lie here helpless as a trussed fowl."

"A loathsome, treacherous lack for a man to put upon the shoulders of a boy."

"But look you, Frances, 'tis but meeting treachery with treachery. Armstrong has no right in this contest, and his success means a new blaze of war, with the loss of thousands of innocent lives. It means the possible triumph of the kind who murdered our father and broke his pledged word to him and to you. And seeming treachery may be real mercy, as in this case it is, for if Cromwell cannot obtain the king's letter by stealthy means he will crush this Armstrong as ruthlessly as he would crush a pest. By no possibility can this Scot ever see his land again if he holds that fatal instrument, for the whole army is watching him. But once hereof if he is free to go as he pleases. This simplest thing he has denied Cromwell and is floundering on through a fool's paradise that bristles with unseen swords. If I were his dearest friend I could do him no greater service than to purloin the document of doom he will carry when he turns his face north again."

"What do you wish me to do?" asked the girl in a low voice, her eyes staring into space, her hand trembling with apprehension at what she knew intuitively was to be required of her.

"Frances, dear, you once took a journey alone to London, to see our father. Again you went the same road, to aid him if you could, and failed, to our lasting grief, through the supineness of a thrice-perjured monarch. Will you refuse to set out on a shorter expedition, not for my sake only, although the saving of my worthless life will be one effect of your success, but to overturn what is perhaps the dual plot of our father's slayer, who has already deluged the land with blood?"

"I'll do it," she said quietly, rising, stooping over and kissing him.

"Frances," he said hoarsely, "remember you are protected by Cromwell's own pass, so have no fear. In case of need the army or any part of it must stand ready to aid you if you call upon it. And John will ride behind and look after you. Although the pass mentions two only, it is so sweeping that they will doubtless take it to include a servant. Any ambassador will hesitate before he delays one carrying so broad a permit from Cromwell himself."

"Yes, yes. I shall meet with no difficulty, you may be sure. You have already talked too much, and the doctor will censure me. Goodbye, Tom. Get speedily well, and that will be my reward, for I swear to you, by our father's memory, that my hand shall give into Cromwell's the king's parchment."

"Send Armstrong to me," were his parting words to her.

Armstrong entered the room shortly after Frances had left it.

"This will never do," cried the Scot cheerily. "The doctor is in despair over the time your sister spent with you, and he is at this moment chiding her. He has threatened with direct penalties if I exceed a scant minute. So I shall just have to bid you fare well and be off, wishing you quick recovery."

"Armstrong," said the boy huskily. "My sister must take to the Oxford road and remedy my default. Will you be her comrade there and back?"

"As faithfully as ever belted knight attended fair lady," replied Armstrong, his eyes suddenly alight with joy.

"John will attend her, and I am sure your good sword will protect her if need be."

"You may take oath on that."

"I give you the pass which is safe conduct for you both, and I think it will serve to cover John as well. If not, your own might shield him as far as Manchester."

"My own will shield me as far as Manchester, and this will, more appropriately, convey your sister and her servant. After Manchester we will manage some way. He not uneasy about that. I give you the word of a Scottish gentleman I will care for your sister as if she were my own."

Armstrong took the pass, which was now ominously stained red. He grasped his supposed friend by the hand, bade him farewell and wished him quick healing. Wentworth's throat choked, for a feeling of strong liking for the man almost overpowered him, but a stinging sense of his own perfidy held him silent. Remorse was already biting worse than the wound in his side. The stranger turned for a moment at the door, waved his hand and called to him to be of good cheer. A soft broke from the lad's throat, and weakly he cursed the exigencies of war.

BRIDGE WORK.

Will Be Pushed at Gilbertsville As Soon As Possible.

Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the I. C., who was in the city last night, stated that the work on Tennessee river bridge was suspended on account of the bad weather, but as soon as a thaw sets in, would be resumed.

The iron work which fell into the river with the false work, several weeks ago, will not be raised from the river immediately, but will be duplicated. This will require a little time but will not delay the work as other parts of the contract can be gone ahead with. The iron will be taken from the water, but probably not until after the bridge is finished.

NOTHING DOING

RAILROAD REGULATES ITS DEPT. POT LIGHTS TO SUIT ITSELF.

Official Says I. C. Does Not Build Sheds—City Should Get Warrants For Blockades.

The city will probably accomplish little by taking up with the Illinois Central railroad matters that concern principally the management of the road and its business. It is denied by officials who ought to know, that the electric lights at the union depot are turned out the minute a train has gone, and also that the lights are not turned on a reasonable length of time before train time. The railroad has to pay for the current it uses, and it is said will never agree to paying for all night lights to gratify the whim of some councilman. Another thing is that the depot is a great place for loafers, and the railroad does not want loafers, and does not want anything to attract them. The depot will probably remain lighted as in the past. Agent Donovan states that some of the lights are never out.

In regard to the shed an official states that it is not the policy of the I. C. to build sheds about its depots. The big union depots in the cities have sheds, but few, if any, the size of the building here, have sheds. The trains come in only a few feet from the waiting room, and even if passengers had to go to and from them in the most drenching rain, they could not get very wet.

In regard to blockading streets, the city alone is to blame for that. Twenty-five or thirty officers are paid to see that the law is enforced, and if the railroad were warranted by patrolmen or citizens every time it blocks a crossing, which it should be, such blockades would be few and far between.

Itch—Ringworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes, April 25th, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Hallard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c. 50c. and $1.00 bottle. DuBois, Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

Little Thomas Williams, the son of W. L. Williams, has been appointed train dispatcher of the I. C. at Fulton, Ky. It will be remembered that Tommie used to be with the Mayfield Medicine company, and was very much liked by them. He is now but 18 years old, and is the youngest dispatcher on the I. C. system, for which he deserves much credit.—Mayfield Messenger.

KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

Small Birds Starving.

Hartford, Ky., Feb. 9.—Reports received from nearly every section of Ohio county indicate that the severe weather is fast exterminating quail and other small birds. The ground here has been covered with snow for the past ten days, and as a result the birds are starving in great numbers. Some few are advocating and practicing the scattering of grain for food for them, and it is their hope that this example will be practiced elsewhere in Kentucky.

To Develop Coal Lands.

Barbourville, Ky., Feb. 9.—The Lother-Kaufman Oil and Coal company, of West Virginia, has secured several thousand acres of coal land in the Eastern Kentucky fields and will begin its development in the near future. The land is situated along the Chesapeake and Ohio extension now being built up the valley of the Big Sandy river. Along the route of this extension several other concerns are now preparing to begin developments and coal leases command fancy prices.

Deal in Wolfe County.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Feb. 9.—Mort Oldham, of this city, has purchased of the Eastern Kentucky Land company 1,000 acres of fine coal and timber land in Wolfe county, near Torrent, on the Lexington and Eastern railroad. Besides the fine timber on the tract, there is a thirty-five inch vein of bituminous. The price paid was $12.50 per acre. This coal land will be at once opened.

Explains His Troubles.

Paris, Ky., Feb. 9.—In a signed statement to the local press, mailed at Georgetown under date of February 6, T. Porter Smith, the absconding insurance agent, makes partial explanation of his financial troubles. He asked that copies of the papers be mailed to him at Puerto Cortez, Honduras. Mr. Smith says his troubles were partly due to patrons failing to pay premiums on policies and to some of his companies refusing to accept policies he had written. He further states that in the last three years he had been compelled to lose over $12,000 in premiums in order to realize ready money, and that one Paris man from whom he had to borrow $150 charged him $150 interest. He further states Paris banks had frequently charged him as high as 50 per cent. discount on good notes.

Mr. Smith concludes his lengthy statement by saying: "I will have a more complete statement ready in March for publication. I will spare no one who has taken advantage of me. If the people who owe me will come up and pay me the difference between what the policies call for and what they paid me, I can pay all I owe and have $6,000 left."

Bully Shot and Cut.

Brinkley, Ky., Feb. 9.—Alex Gayheart and Kelley Williams engaged in a fight about five miles north of here, in which Gayheart was shot in the breast with a shotgun, knocked over the head with a club and his throat cut from ear to ear. Question of Jurisdiction.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 9.—Commonwealth's Attorney Allen of Fayette county, has made a motion in the court of appeals that the commonwealth of Kentucky be made a party to the proceedings between Breathitt and Fayette counties, involving the question of jurisdiction in the Hargis cases. Petition sets up that Judge Parker has no real interest in the cases, while the commonwealth is directly interested, and that the proceedings are unusual and unprecedented.

forced on the inland waters, and the forced on the inland waters, and this has brought up the question of dividing the three great modes of traffic by water. Admiral Symonds will make a thorough study of conditions in the Mississippi, and it is likely that he will propose other changes to the board of supervising inspectors, which is now in session at Washington.

HOW JO PARKER

IS SPENDING HIS TIME BETWEEN CAMPAIGNS

Is to Send a Colony From Cincinnati To Cedar Hill, Tenn.

A Cincinnati dispatch says of Jo A. Parker, formerly publisher of the Kentucky Populist in Paducah:

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 9.—Jo A. Parker of Louisville, Ky., for four years chairman of the national executive committee of the people's party, is in Cincinnati arranging to send 200 families to Cedar Hill, Tenn., a village near Nashville, where he says help is scarce and there is an opportunity for settlers to own farms. Parker's present venture has something to do with populism, he explained, but believes that he is doing a work for the betterment of mankind by giving unfortunate from the cities a chance to become self-supporting in a healthful country community.

"We want nobody but workers in Cedar Hill," said Parker to the Banner correspondent; "but for such there is a good opening."

THE GENERAL COURT NOTES

Circuit Court.

Attorneys interested in today's cases in circuit court promptly came up with papers and escaped the threatened fine of $5, in case they failed to have all papers on hand.

Judge Reed announced yesterday that he intended to put a stop to attorneys taking suits and pleadings away from the court house and not returning them, thus delaying court, and hereafter it would cost them $5 for every offense. Judge Reed means business, and the attorneys understand it fully.

The certificate of appeal was today filed in the Willis Mount murder case. The case was tried at the last criminal term of circuit court, and it required all this time to get up the evidence and records. The case is now in the hands of the court of appeals and the public here will watch the action of the higher court with interest as it will decide if Mount will get a new trial or will have to serve the 21 years sentence for killing Willis Nutty.

The plaintiff in the case of William Babb against R. C. Utterback and others, filed a motion to set aside the judgment.

A judgment for divorce was filed in the case of Robert Grimm vs. Eugenia Grimm.

Judgment was rendered for $1,750 in favor of Mays and others against Lane, F. W. Katterjohn and Geo. O. Hart. The plaintiffs were trustees of the new Christian church at Princeton, Ky., and Lane was a contractor in Paducah several years ago who built it. The defendants were his bondsmen, and the suit was brought on the ground that the church was not built according to contract, and was inferior.

Police Court.

The case against J. C. Woosley and Jake Rouse, white, charged with petty larceny and a breach of the peace, respectively, were left open.

Lee Harnhart, white, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.

John Rogers, white, charged with striking Docia Morgan, was granted a continuance.

CHRISTIAN LIFE

ENDS IN THE DEATH OF MRS. M. L. BRAZELTON.

Well Known Woman Dies After a Long Illness—Leaves Four Children.

Mrs. Mary L. Brazelton, one of Paducah's oldest and most estimable women, died this morning at 11:30 o'clock at her home at Sixth and Clark streets, after an illness of several weeks of general debility. She had been ill for some time, but her condition became serious only a few days ago.

The deceased was born in Lexington, Tenn., in 1832, and was 74 years of age. She married about 44 years ago and immediately came to Paducah, where she has resided ever since. She was the widow of Col. H. G. Brazelton, one of Paducah's most prominent, wealthy and influential citizens, who for years was in the wholesale dry goods business, later going into the tobacco business. Col. Brazelton died in 1873.

The deceased leaves two brothers, Rev. W. L. Tarbet, of Divernon, Ill., and Mr. E. E. Tarbet, of Saltville, Tenn., two daughters, Misses Ada and Mary Brazelton; and two sons, Messrs. Will and Harry Brazelton. She leaves also a niece, Mrs. F. D. Moore, of Milan, Tenn.

The deceased was a good, Christian woman, of intelligence and refinement, who made her life useful to all with whom she came in contact. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church and was a diligent and devoted worker. She had a wide circle of friends who will regret to learn of her death.

Mrs. Brazelton was perhaps as well known as any woman in Paducah and the news of her death will bring sorrow to many.

For years she had led a quiet Christian life, but those who knew her and enjoyed her unusually bright mind, old time hospitality and devotion for her friends and family, will miss her much, indeed.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the house, burial at Oak Grove.

A BLACK EYE.

Is Predicted for Rivers and Harbors Bill.

Washington, Feb. 9.—It looks as if the poor old rivers and harbors bill was going to get a black eye after all that has been said and done for it. It is stated by certain senators that Senator Allison, senior member of the big four upon whom the president relies had said that no rivers and harbors bill can get through this session. The reason assigned is the imperative necessity for economy. Senator Allison is also quoted as saying that the navy department must be satisfied with an appropriation for one battleship. Secretary Morton has his heart set upon three battleships.

Friends of the rivers and harbors bill in the house are wearing a disconsolate look, owing to the delay already incurred in getting the bill in shape. The truth is they are extremely apprehensive for its fate. If the rivers and harbors bill is side-tracked this session it is said that the omnibus public building bill will also go over.

IROQUOIS HONOR

Recalled By Quashing of the Indictment Today.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 9.—The indictment returned a year ago against Will Davis manager of the Iroquois theater, which burned with a loss of $75 lives, was quashed today by Judge Kersten. Insufficient testimony in the drawing of the document was the reason given. Another indictment will probably be drawn.

And Many Injured in the Iowa Wreck.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 9.—The Overland Limited on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, pitched through a bridge near Melbourne today. From meager reports it is learned that at least five were killed and many were injured.

It is thought this afternoon that only two were killed in the wreck the conductor and mail clerk.

TREATY MADE

WHICH WILL GIVE UNCLE SAM CONTROL OF AFFAIRS

Over at San Domingo—Government Promises Co-Operation With the United States.

San Domingo, Feb. 9.—The task of revising and amending the convention of January 20, between the United States and Santo Domingo, under which the former government is to undertake the financial administration of Santo Domingo until the claims of certain foreign powers are adjusted and satisfied, has been completed.

The first section is slightly altered, while the second is greatly modified, the American government agreeing to completely respect the territorial integrity of Santo Domingo. The convention or protocol specifically affirms the Monroe doctrine. The Dominican government is to be paid forty-five per cent. of the total gross amount collected in all custom houses of the republic that proportion of the revenues being for necessities of the administrative budget. Any reform of the Dominican tariff is to be subject to approval by the President of the United States. There shall be no increase of export duties or of the public debt of Santo Domingo, but export duties may be reduced or abolished by authority of the American government on request of the Dominican government. The Dominican government pledges itself to give all necessary aid to the American government in carrying out the purposes of the convention as the latter may deem convenient.

LARGE CONTRACT

SECURED BY THE STARKS-ULLMAN SADDLERY CO.

Will Furnish All the Harness and Other Gear to the State of Mississippi.

Mr. O. B. Starks, president of the Starks-Ullman Saddlery Co., returned from Jackson, Miss., today. While there he closed a contract with the board of control of the state convict farms to furnish harness, collars, saddlery and plain gear for the mules and horses worked on these farms.

Mr. Starks is very proud of his success in securing this contract which was secured over the lines of goods of ten competitors, including several of the largest factories of the large cities, such as New Orleans, Memphis, St. Louis, Louisville, Nashville and Buford, Ga.

In selecting the line the board considered the quality of the goods and it was unanimously voted that the line of the Starks-Ullman Saddlery Co. was the best represented in the display.

The board of control consists of the governor as chairman, and associated with him the attorney-general, and the three railroad commissioners.

They have four different farms on which they work the convicts of the state. The largest of these farms is located in Sunflower county, and contains over 13,000 acres.

They work eight hundred mules and horses and the contract will amount to several thousand dollars.

This firm, though young, is fast becoming recognized as one of the coming concerns of the trade, and is to be congratulated on securing the above contract.
